The post was established in 1838 by Robert Campbell, who discovered that the Pelly and Yukon were one and the same river, and who discovered the head waters of the Stikine. The original post was at the other end of the lake, but was moved recently to its present site. This photograph was taken by Mrs. W.G. Crisp, wife of our Kitwanga post manager. 5. Centre: An unpretentious building but bearer of a fine name, Fort George on James Bay. The original post was erected about 1800, but the site has been changed many times since. 6. On the right: Another post, PondÆs Inlet, on the northern tip of Baffin Land. The post was erected in 1921 under supervision of the present Fur Trade Commissioner, Chief Factor Ralph Parsons, while he was manager of that district. The R.C.M.P. are also established here, as may be seen by initials picked out in the rock on the hill side.	PDF

A.H. Walby, general secretary, the League of Norsemen in Canada, stands beside the steering wheel of the late Roald Amundsen's vessel "Maud," later the HBC "Baymaud." 2. From Mr. B. Huntoon comes this picture of a northern Columbian bruin doing a little out of season fishing. 3. An interesting photograph (taken by Winthrop Brown, of Boston) of an old Albany River Indian on the Achapai lake. It will be noticed that he is sitting on something seldom seen today - a birch-bark canoe. 4. Good dogs, bad dogs; lead dogs and mere workers; pups and full grown animals; dogs showing southern strains and pure huskies - but all dogs in Baffin Island that work hard all winter and howl most of the summer, especailly during the evening when the noise is least welcome. In this case they are Lake Harbour dogs and the time is feeding time. 5. We welcome this picture of Mr. A. Mackintosh, manager of our Trout Lake post. It was taken by Rev. Leslie Garrett, and shows what gentlemen of the North are wearing - Hudson's Bay Point Blanket coats, warm, made of specially selected wools - but, need we say more? Everyone knows their admirable qualities. 	PDF

An impressive display of fox furs arranged by our London office at the recent British Industries Air in England. 2. Flight Sergeant Thomas and Dr. Tyrer display an excellent catch after one day's fishing in Big Trout lake. 3. Not really well dressed for the North, and û Where did you get that hat, Mr. Uktukaluk?  4. A photograph taken during the Company's advertising managers' conference at Calgary in May. Left to right: A. Carter, supervisor, small stores; H. Brock smith, Vancouver; A.S. Wollard, Saskatoon; C.W. Page, Victoria; D. MacKay, Canadian Committee office; R.E. Standfield, manager, Calgary; H.A. Jack, Calgary; J.P. McNichol, Winnipeg; D.V. Hicks, Edmonton. 5. With the opening of northern rivers and lakes, freight is beginning to move by steamer, gas boat, canoe and by air. Here is a busy scene at Norway House at the head of Lake Winnipeg. 6. Probably the last of the Red River carts to be in actual use. It was built by Francis Richard, of St. Eustache, Manitoba, recently and has been used on his farm until the company bought it from him a few weeks ago. His father and grandfather were carpenters in the Company's employ.	PDF

The two bright eyes and the smile belong to Master Hugo Watt, son of J.S.C. Watt, HBC post manager at Rupert's House, the Company's oldest post, on James Bay. The dog, we believe, is a good specimen of husky, and the photographer reports that Hugo and the dog are great friends. &lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;2. Competition for the retail store in Winnipeg; and, as the temperature was nearing 100° in the official shade at the time, the two young ladies did a roaring business right outside the Portage Avenue entrance.&lt;br&gt;&lt;br&gt;3. S. Voisey, of the Repulse Bay Post, sent in this picture.
